by Randolph Harrison, a prominent attorney, and many prominent Democrats occupied seats upon the stage. Mr.
Harrison was peculiarly timely in his introduction, and he paid many glowing tributes to the candidate.

Mr. Tucker began with a lengthy discussion of his attilude with respect ing tributes to the candidate.

Mr. Tucker began with a lengthy discussion of his attitude with respect to local option laws, liquor as well as otherwise. He spoke at some length as to charges that the liquor leaders of the State are fighting for Judge Mann, saying that if Judge Mann is by any means elected Governor and the temperance people vote for him, they will wake up and find, they have been handed a squeezed lemon.

He paid his respects to an alleged meeting in Washington a few days ago to see how strong the conditions might be made for the liquor people. He defended his record as a Democrat, claiming that he had never voted anything but the straight ticket. He said if it was ever "fixed" in Richmond and Washington to accomplish Judge Mann's nomination the people have "unfixed" it.

For a Lynchburg audience it was very demonstrative and at a number of times the merr gave way to enthusiastic cheering. There were probably 700 people in the audience, there being a very few women.

In the circle of the could not construct one-third of a vote each; passed a set of resolutions, heard speeches and appointed or resolutions, heard speeches and appointed various committees, and adjourned at the end of twenty minutes. The real business of the duty was transacted in eleven minutes, the other time being taken in informal discussion.

The scheduled slate slipped through without a scratch. One or two reactionary moves were slienced in short order. The list of delegates and resolutions had previously been prepared on a typewriter. The following were chosen delegates to Newport News: Captain E. H. Causey, Jr. R. L. Woodward, B. M. Bruce, John F. Lotizla, A. M. Matics, I. A. Luke, George L. Barton, John L. Gay, R. W. Baker, B. B. Dunvill, I. T. Wilson, E. M. C. Quimby, W. T. Barrett, M. Maxwell and Beverly Brothers.

The question of nominating a legislative candidate in Nansemond county was introdued, but action was deferred until after the Democratic primary, August 5.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

BRISTOL, VA., July 23.—The town of Abingdon, Va. feels keenly the prospect of losing materially in point of revene from its dispensary as the result of Bristol's voting for the restoration of saloons. It is expected that the trade which has been given to Abingdon through its dispensary will now be diverted to Bristol in the main, since persons will be able to make orders through the houses to be established here by mail, while the law prohibits the dispensary from selling in any way except in original nackages over the counter. But even with this restriction, the Abingdon dispensary earned $36,00 in net profits last year. As a result of its earnings, the town of Abingdon has paid a bonded indebtedness of $25,000, and is now spending $24,000 in the improvement of its streets. Abingdon business we there will still be a source of profit, but estimate that it will probably not yield more than $10,000 per annum in competition with Bristol.

TWENTY FREIGHT CARS DROP FROM BRIDGE INTO RIVER.

WILMINGTON, N. C., July 23.—Traffic on the Wilmington and Weldon division of the Atlantic Coast Line between Wilmington and Wilson, N. C., will be tied up for seventy-two hours, except by transfer and detour of trains as the result of the precipitation of twenty freight ears into Neuse River, between Goldsbore and Dudfey, N. C., the afternoon. The brake rigging under one of the ears fell as the train was passing over the structure, one span of which gave way as the cars piled up, and a part of the train fell into the water twenty feet below, these being loaded principally with lumber, shingles and heavy freight. No one was hurt.
